

INTERPRETING TWO NEWS

Michigan townships, blessed by 788,834 in sales tax diversion money to date, are going to the aid of mud-in-rural roads.

During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1949, townships received $9,170,760 in state sales revenues, diverted to townships under the sales tax diversion amendment.

It is clear that approximately 34 per cent of the state sales tax distributed to townships in 1949 was transferred to county commissions to improve rural roads.

It is equally clear also that millions of dollars are accumulating in the treasuries of township boards, waiting approval of township boards to be expended for the services.

The records of Auditor General A. T. A. show that sales tax collections from December, 1946 to June 30, 1947 brought a total of $8,723 to Michigan townships.

This amount was doubled in the following fiscal year to $9,635,676. For the past fiscal year, ending June 30, 1949, the rising tide of the sales tax revenues to townships to an all-time high of $9,170,760.

On December 31, 1949, Michigan townships had received a total of $28,788,834 from the sales tax revenue at Lansing to be used for township needs.

Act Number 34 of the Public Acts of 1948, approved by the Governor on May 10, 1948, provides that a township may appropriate unexpended balances in the township or general fund of the township for the maintenance and improvement of township roads.

The tug-of-war over road financing has reached a stalemate at Lansing. Governor G. Mennen Williams declines to submit a proposal to increase the state gasoline tax, as recommended by the state highway department and county commissions.

Since the stand of the Governor would make such legislative action taken in 1950, clearly unconstitutional, Republican legislative leaders have decided to press the Governor for permission to consider such legislation.

Republican legislative leaders are criticizing the Governor for attempting a legislative program of such broad scope, while limited the legislators to restricted methods of financing. Thus, Governor Williams proposes that $18,000,000 be taken from the general fund of the state treasury to finance highway construction, but raise this money only by a state corporation profits tax.

The legislators' frustration prompted Senator Perry W. Green (Grand Rapids) and Senator James T. Milliken (R. Traverse City) to introduce a proposed constitutional amendment providing for annual sessions of the legislature.

A similar resolution has been introduced in the House by Rep. C. Cramton (R. Lapeer).

Republican legislative leaders maintain that the Governor never had any idea that the legislature would enact his many recommendations. They retort that the Williams program was merely for political campaign purposes.

It is most likely that around April 1, when the legislature adjourns its special session, the Governor can then point with alarm to the failure of the legislature to act on his program.

There isn't a Chinaman's chance that the legislature will tax corporations $110,000,000 for bigger and better public benefits.

Governor Williams knows this. He already has his issue for election.

Council Cancels Trial Of Parking Meters

Mayor Explains Council's Stand

To the Citizens of Grayling

At a special meeting of the Council on April 10, 1950, we reversed our vote on the parking meter question. We did not reverse our stand. We still feel that meters are the answer to some of our problems which are discussed below.

The reason for reversing the vote was that we received little or no active support from those in favor of meters.

Grayling City Council.

Mayor A. L. Roberts of Grayling has issued a signed statement explaining the reasons that the City Council of Grayling ordered a six month trial of parking meters for the city's business district and why they still feel that a trial of the meters would be a good thing for the city.

Following is Mayor Roberts' statement:

The City Council, in its efforts to find out whether parking meters were good or bad for a town, has contacted many other cities already having meters.

The officials of other towns had the same problem that exists in the City of Grayling and they tried parking meters to solve these problems.

The cities contacted which are of about the same type and size of Grayling are: Charlevoix, West Branch, Reed City and Clare.

There was considerable opposition to meters in all of these towns and they decided to try them for only the six month trial period because of the opposition and because they did not cost the City government any money to try.

In all cases the opposition was gone at the end of the trial period and the parking problem was taking care of itself, and the traveling public was helping to pay for the police courtesy they expect when visiting another city.

Parking meters, have been in the back of the minds of many of the citizens and the Council for the past four years, and have been argued from every angle. Over one half of the business people have urged the City government to put in parking meters to take care of the parking conditions and also to furnish revenue to help finance programs to make Grayling a better community than it is today.

At the present time it has more improvements for the money it costs the tax payers than any City of its size in the north forty counties of the Lower Peninsula, and possible in the whole State of Michigan.

These citizens have learned and the City officials have learned from other cities that parking meters, instead of driving business away, gets more people to stop and shop because there is room for them to park and if they can park where they want to they are not too interested in the penny or nickel it costs them to park where they want to.

As far as servicing meters, it will not take an average of over four man hours per week of service and collect the money from the meters.

In eliminating the center parking on two blocks of Michigan Avenue we will eliminate about forty parking places. In the past year there has been over fifty automobile accidents amounting to over $100.00 damages each, caused directly or indirectly by the center of the street parking.

This could easily amount to more than this damage or money if your little child should run out from between these parked cars and get run over. Most of these accidents could be eliminated without any effort if people parking for more than an hour or two would park off Michigan Avenue.

There are approximately 117 parking places on Michigan Avenue from Chestnut Street to Norway Street, besides the front of the Post Office, and about 27 parking places on the easterly side of Cedar Street from Ionia Street to Ottawa Street, making about 144 legal parking places in the main five blocks of the City of Grayling.

In three counts of parking on Michigan Avenue taken when the parking facilities were full at least half of the cars belonged to people who were parked for more than one or two hours. If these people would park on side streets or behind their business places, there would be plenty of parking places on Michigan Avenue.

To put up one or two hour parking signs and enforce it, would take up all of the time of one, and possibly two, policemen, and we do not have the money to pay another officer, and the present day policeman is paid from tax money, and so the people from the rest of the City expect their complaints to be answered as well as those on Michigan Avenue, and too, he must be available to give information to the traveling public, as they would rather get information from a policeman than a large degree from the tourist trade, and parking places in our

Rev. Puffer named atheism and materialism as the two foes of the Church. He said that much better days were ahead for the Church all over the world and added that we were approaching the end of an era of cynicism and disbelief.

Next Monday evening the club will join with other clubs of the Eighth Division in a joint meeting at the Pioneer Hills Sports Park.

About 125 Attend Protest Meeting

At a special session of the City Council of Grayling held in the Council Rooms at the City Hall Monday evening, the Council voted 5 to 0 to cancel the contract with the Park-O-Meter Company calling for the installation of about 100 parking meters here beginning about May 1 for a six months trial.

In the surprise move Councilman Don Gotro made the motion right after City Clerk Max Davenport called the roll following the opening of the meeting by Mayor A. L. Roberts. Mayor Roberts supported the motion and it passed unanimously.

Councilman Gotro in making his motion said that in view of the opposition to the installation of the meters and the lack of support by those favoring the meters, that he moved that the contract be cancelled and that any costs incurred by the city be authorized paid.

Following the passage of the motion, Attorney Robert F. Neafie appeared before the Council in behalf of a five man committee named at a protest meeting held at the Court House last Friday night. Neafie attacked the legality of the vote of Councilman William Tufts in the approval vote of 3 to 0 which was the result of a Council meeting held on Monday night, April 3. The attorney said that it was his opinion that Councilman Tufts was not a resident of the city and therefore not qualified to sit on the Council or legally vote.

Councilman Tufts said that he had been advised by his attorney that he was legally qualified to sit on the council. He said that if the Council wished him to resign, he would without any ill feelings, but if they did not request it he would not resign. The Council at Monday night's session indicated that they would not ask for the resignation.

Councilman Tufts also suggested that the parking meter question be placed on the ballot at the next election to get the reaction of the citizens of Grayling. No action was taken Monday night on the suggestion.

Last Friday night, about 125 people gathered in the Court Room at the Crawford County Court House in a protest rally against the meters. The meeting was opened and conducted by A. J. Nelson.

An open discussion period was held and the question of the legality of the City Councilman William Tufts, who maintains a home outside of the city limits, voting on the parking meter problem was broached.

Attorney Neafie quoted the State Law on the qualifications of an officeholder and stated that he did not think that Councilman Tufts could legally hold his seat or vote on any questions.

It was the consensus of those present that the contract with the Park-O-Meter Company should be declared void because of this reason and that the question should be placed on the ballot at a city election and the feelings of all of the people of Grayling be expressed.

The group named a five man committee to carry out their wishes in the matter. These named were: A. J. Nelson, Herluf Sorenson, Ronnow Hanson, Emil Tahvonen and George Smiggen. They met following the general meeting and elected A. J. Nelson as their chairman and retained Attorney Neafie to represent them.

The five man Citizen's Committee expressed their thanks to the City Council for calling the special session Monday evening and also for the co-operation given their committee by the Council.

COUNCIL'S STAND

business area must be made available for the tourist.

In the past we have tried to enforce limited parking by signs and policing. Like all other towns that have tried this method, we found it could not be done in a satisfactory manner.

Parking meters can be checked much more rapidly and would not take up all of a policeman's time, like enforcing parking signs would, as he does not have to mark each tire with chalk to know how long they have parked. Parking meters will not only rotate the parking but are a source of revenue which would be very welcome at this time, as the new black top on Michigan Avenue cost the City about $7.00 per lineal foot, in front of each business establishment, and this is not paid for at present. After this is paid for, it was thought that perhaps this revenue would help finance another policeman, which would more nearly furnish a policeman for duty the full twenty-four hours a day. This would make a more efficient department, as they could better take care of complaints, parking, the traveling public, etc.

Our tax roll revenues are only 1/8 higher than back in 1939 and 1940, when labor and materials were only about 1/2 what they are now. Of this revenue, about 1/4 or $10.00 per family is spent for a Fire Department; the same is spent for the Police Department; 1/20 or $2.00 per family is spent for collecting trash and upkeep of the city dump; 1/10 or $4.00 per family is spent for additions of new spurs to water and sewer mains; lesser amounts are spent for libraries, advertising, parks, cemeteries, and administration, and about 1/4 of $10.00 per family for paying past bond issues, etc.

We receive around $8,000.00 from gas and weight tax returns, of this 1/4 goes for snow and ice removal; 1/4 for maintenance of streets, 1/4 for street lights; some for street and highway signs, and other lesser items, which leaves us very little for new construction and we have considerable of this new street construction to be done, and so we can easily see why this new blacktop is not paid for.

The FBI Doesn't Make Policy

As a result of evidence introduced in the dramatic communist trials, a great to-do has been made over alleged illegal activities by the FBI, including wire-tapping. This issue, as is to be expected, is being built up by left-wing groups.

However, many honest and sincere people are worried about the possibility of police state methods being adopted here. So the position of the FBI should be clearly understood.

First of all, as J. Edgar Hoover has pointed out, wire tapping is not carried on a wholesale scale, as the left-wing comrades would have us believe. It is authorized only in cases of the gravest kind, involving espionage, sabotage and kidnapping. In such cases, it is often the only possible means of developing evidence.

Moreover, as Mr. Hoover also said, the FBI does not make policy in this or anything else. It follows policies laid down by its superiors in the government. The policy on wire tapping was set by the late President Roosevelt in 1940. In each case when the use of a wire tap is under consideration, the authorization of the Attorney General must be obtained before the tap can be utilized by the FBI.

This policy was followed by Attorney Generals Biddle, Jackson and Clark. The latter two are now justices of the Supreme Court. And the policy has been reiterated by the present Attorney General Mr. McGrath.

According to Mr. Hoover, "The FBI has less than 170 telephone-taps in existence, confined to internal security cases, throughout the entire United States and its possessions." The tap, in other words, is employed only in extremely serious cases, which definitely affect the national security, and then only on the authorization of the highest legal officer of the Executive branch of the government.

Will Enforce
Fire Law Rigidly

Rigid enforcement of the revised state open fire law will start with the spring forest fire hazard period, the conservation department warns.

The law now provides that a person who willfully or negligently causes a damaging fire is liable for all expense incurred by the state in suppressing, over and above services of regular personnel and equipment.

The law still specifies that a person who starts a brush, grass or any other type of open fire, except for domestic purposes, without a permit is subject to a maximum fine of $100 and/or 90 days in jail. The department's forest fire service also calls attention to the fact that a burner may be sued for damages in event a fire spreads to another person's property.

Permits are required as soon as snow leaves the ground, creating general hazard conditions. Conservation and forest fire officers are required to use their own discretion as to when to issue burning permits in a given area.

Besides reducing the grass and forest fire toll, the service hopes to cut down on needless, expensive fire runs. When an officer is aware of a small, controlled fire under permit, fire fighters will not be rushing out on unnecessary calls and will be available for real emergencies.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Gabby Enjoys Going to The Dentist

One of my molars was giving me a bad time Tuesday afternoon, so I slipped over to Doc Jones, hoping to catch him free. When I arrived, Gabby Jackson was sitting there reading a magazine. I said hello to Gabby and he nodded.

Doc comes out and says I'm next. "Wait a minute," I says. (My tooth seemed to have stopped aching.) "How about Gabby—doesn't he have an appointment?" Doc smiles and says, "Gabby? Why, he's got the finest teeth in the county. He just comes up here and reads the magazines whenever he's in town!"

As Doc went to work he told me that he's glad to have Gabby come up and read magazines... they might not all be fresh off the newsstand, but if Gabby—or anyone wants to while away some time who is he to stand in their way? From where I sit, this "live and let live" spirit helps make America what it is. If I prefer a friendly glass of beer with my supper and you prefer milk—who's to say one's right and the other wrong?

Weekly News-Letter

From the Desk of Representative Emil A. Peltz.

Township and county treasurers will be relieved to know that House Bill No. 15 provides for an appropriation of $825,000 for the payment to local units of government for taxes resulting from veterans' homestead exemptions.

Due to increased valuation throughout the state, the 1949 Legislature underestimated the amount required for the fiscal year ending January 30, 1950. Many units of government now find themselves without reimbursement due to the fact that the fund was depleted. The $825,000.00 is a deficiency appropriation to complete the payments for the balance of the fiscal year. The bill has been passed by both the Senate and the House and awaits the Governor's signature.

The recent Supreme Court decision declaring the so-called "search and seizure" law unconstitutional leaves us with a serious problem on our hands. As chairman of the Conservation Committee, I have been besieged with questions as to what we will do about it. While we find no fault with the action of the court, we cannot overlook the handicap under which the law enforcement division finds itself. The new law was in operation for almost a year. It worked well, and conservation officers made no misuse of their authority and there were less violations.

The publicity given the Supreme Court decision is serving notice on violators that they can again operate at large. Illegal game will be commercially transported year round, and the officers will find themselves unable to cope with the situation.

Not to be overlooked is the effect the decision will have on the morale of our officers. They are a hard working, conscientious, well trained but underpaid group. They endure many hardships, working many hours when citizens sleep. They are out in all kinds of weather endangering their health in the protection of our wild life.

Add to this the fact that they have now been disarmed thereby endangering their very lives. Conferences are being held in an effort to find a solution. It is hoped that the Governor will recognize the emergency and that we will be able to again put some "teeth" in the law so that we may be able to continue with good law enforcement.

Before adjourning for the Easter week end, the House and Senate passed a resolution requesting the Governor to open the Special Session for consideration of the entire

Good Roads Federation highway program. Thus far he has stubbornly resisted offering only a peace meal solution entirely inadequate and suggesting taxes for road purposes not paid by road users.

Surplus Food Plan Attacked

Statement by Congressman Roy O. Woodruff of Mich.

"Now that President Truman and his administration have decided to assist the Secretary of Agriculture in an attempt to sell his 'Promising' Brannan Plan, I hope that he will have time to push the sales of some of the surplus food commodities that they have been hoarding." "I particularly trust that he will try and sell some of the dried beans that are owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation," Congressman Roy O. Woodruff of Michigan stated.

"Dried beans are not a major agricultural crop but they are important to my state of Michigan and to the states of New York, Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico, Wyoming, Idaho and California." "In the latest report of the Commodity Corporation, dated February 28, 1950, it was disclosed that they had 4,865,985 100-lb. bags of beans." "During the entire month of February, Secretary Brannan had been able to reduce his inventory by 3,322 bags—less than $25,000 worth of beans." "I am informed that the record will not be much better during the month of March." "On May 1, 1950, the Commodity Credit Corporation will be called upon to take into their inventory most of the 8,867,654 100-lb. bags of beans that were under loan or purchase agreements on February 28, 1950."

"This means that that with planting time approaching the government will own the equivalent of over 80% of an average year's production," the congressman continued.

"Investigation has disclosed that the failure to sell or otherwise distribute dried beans rests with the Secretary of Agriculture." "He has set prices that are above the world market and his sales policies are such as not to encourage sales in export markets." "The administration on the other hand has encouraged the importation of dried beans from Canada and Chile through lower duties," Congressman Woodruff explained.

"The record of sales on this one commodity—less than $25,000 during the month of February—indicates a clear lack of sound management and attention to business by the Secretary of Agriculture." "The report of the Appropriations Committee indicates that storage and handling charges on dried beans alone were costing the taxpayers $263,075 a month." "The total storage and handling bill on all the agricultural surpluses from July through December, 1949, amounted to over $105,000,000 or roughly $25,000 an hour."

"After May 1, 1950 when the Commodity Credit Corporation is called upon to take over loans on several commodities the storage bill is expected to be doubled," he said.

"The Commodity Credit Corporation, of which Mr. Brannan is the head, is one of the country's biggest corporations and is unquestionably the biggest corporation in the food and agricultural field." "Yet, it is apparently operating without a sales organization." "Can you stay in business by merely buying and not selling," Congressman Woodruff questioned.

"Perhaps the Secretary of Agriculture, Chairman of the Board Brannan is uniquely fortunate in having to report in a manner of speaking only to taxpayers rather than stockholders, although frankly, I can't see the distinction," Congressman Woodruff concluded.

"I, JEFF BOYNTON of the Union Army's Company E, second regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, wore a look of utter dejection as he entered headquarters tent, nodded wearily to Capt. Finn Lacey, and slumped onto a stool. The captain stopped writing, leaned back in his chair.

"She wouldn't talk, eh?" "No, she wouldn't talk," Boynton answered. He stretched his long legs out in front of him and studied the worn toe of his boot.

"Maybe she's not a spy after all," Lacey hazarded.

Boynton's blue eyes flashed as he jerked up his head. "Yes, she is! I'm sure of it."

Lacey shrugged and gestured with his cigar. "If you're so sure, we'll hold a court-martial and—"

"No!" Boynton was on his feet. "Don't do that, sir. We haven't enough evidence to convict. It will mean she'll go free and we'll lose our one chance of stopping the leak. Information is getting through somehow. Alice Struthers is responsible. We must learn her methods."

"How?" "How? That was the question that had driven Lt. Boynton nearly to distraction, had caused him the loss of sleep and wearied his brain from thinking. A week ago, basing the act on the alimmet of reasons, he had had Alice Struthers arrested, to be held for questioning regarding the leakage of information to Confederate Gen. Johnson.

"You can't hold her forever without a trial, Boynton," the older man pointed out after another week had passed in which the lieutenant had failed completely in his efforts to unearth some grain of evidence. "Miss Struthers is popular among the officers. Some swear they have known her for years and will vouch for her loyalty to the Union."

"Which makes it all the more likely she would succeed as a spy. I happen to know that all of Miss Struthers' maternal ancestors came from Georgia. She herself spent a good part of her girlhood in Savannah."

Idly he fingered a package of letters that he brought in with him. "I'm convinced that in these letters the girl is sending out the information. How, I don't know. Certainly she is using no code. I have checked every letter a dozen times. Purposely I have permitted each to be mailed. Events immediately following convince me that some how those letters are the means of conveying the information."

CAPT. LACEY picked up the letters and read them briefly. They contained nothing to excite suspicion—more messages of love and devotion to friends in the South.

Lacey suddenly pounded the table. "By George, Boynton, I believe I have it! Obviously something has to be done, and I'm more than half convinced—though heaven knows why—that your suspicions are well founded."

One day while going through the relics of long-ago battles, he came upon a letter.

"So?" "So we'll deport her. Turn her over to the Confederate army. If that stops the leakage we'll know she was the guilty party, and there will no longer be danger of its continuance."

"And it will mean Alice Struthers' complete freedom."

Two days later prisoner Alice Struthers was turned over to Confederate Gen. Johnson under a flag of truce.

But it wasn't until after the war had ended that he found the answer to the riddle. One day while going through his relics of long ago battles he came upon a letter.

It was one that Alice Struthers had written to her friends in the South, and which he had kept for a souvenir.

The paper was yellow, the ink faded. The postage stamp had dried and was hanging by a mere thread. As he looked at it, Lt. Boynton's eyes grew wide. For beneath the stamp were some closely written, finely penned words, obviously the cipher employed by Alice Struthers which he had tried so hard to locate.

THIS IS OUR MOST SHAMEFUL WASTE!

THE NUMBER OF FOREST FIRES IS UNBELIEVABLE!

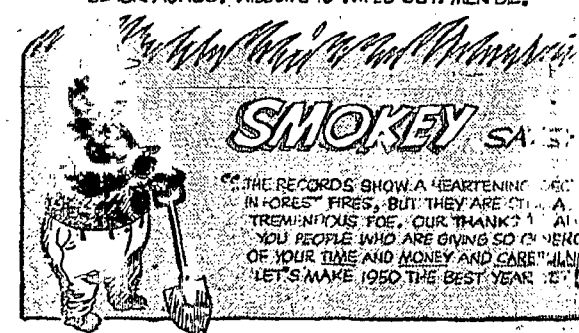

THERE IS AN AVERAGE OF 200,000 FOREST FIRES EVERY YEAR. THEY BURN ABOUT 30 MILLION ACRES, AN AREA LARGER THAN THE STATE OF PENNSYLVANIA! THE SAW-TIMBER TREES DESTROYED WOULD BUILD ALL THE HOMES IN A CITY OF OVER ONE-HALF MILLION POPULATION!

HOW MUCH LONGER CAN WE AFFORD THIS SHAMEFUL WASTE?

IT ALL DEPENDS ON THE PEOPLE OF THIS COUNTRY—PEOPLE LIKE YOU! CARELESSNESS, NOT LIGHTNING OR OTHER SUCH CAUSES—IS THE MAJOR CAUSE OF FOREST FIRES! PLEASE—PLEASE—BE CAREFUL THIS YEAR, ALWAYS FOLLOW THESE FOUR SIMPLE RULES!

1. HOLD YOUR MATCH UNTIL IT'S COLD—THEN PINCH IT TO BE SURE. 2. DROWN YOUR CAMPFIRE, THEN STIR AND DROWN AGAIN. 3. CRUSH OUT YOUR CIGARETTE, CLEAR, PIPE ASHES, USE AN ASH TRAY. 4. ASK YOUR RANGER OR FIRE WARDEN BEFORE BURNING GRASS, BRUSH, FENCE ROWS OR TRASH.

FOREST FIRES BREED DISASTER! GREAT FLOODS THREATEN WHEN WATERSHEDS ARE BURNED. VITAL POWER AND WATER SOURCES ARE ENDANGERED. OUR FOREST PLAYGROUNDS TURN TO BLACK ASHES. WILDLIFE IS WIPED OUT. MEN DIE.

It's TIME someone did something about...

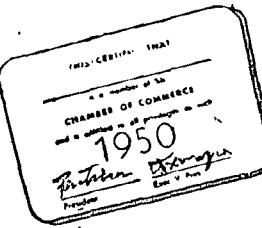

WE OUGHT to get more business into this town. Other places are bringing in new industries and new payrolls. Why can't we?

Sure, you can kick about business conditions. But you've got a better chance of getting action if you go to the right place. A membership in your chamber of commerce is the kicker's license that does the trick. You may not agree with everything the organization does, but, if your complaint is a sound one, you'll find plenty of support.

It is probable that your chamber is already doing something about getting new factories and businesses. If so, there's your chance to help shape the program the way you think it should be.

Basically, that's the way a chamber works. You're sure there should be more business in town. Another member thinks a civic center is badly needed. He helps you, you help him. And you, he and the community all benefit.

It's not always easy to solve every problem, but it is always easy to get help. All you need to do is be on the team. Ask your chamber of commerce executives for your kicker's license.

SHORT STORY

Perplexing Riddle

By Richard Hill Wilkinoen

"I, JEFF BOYNTON of the Union Army's Company E, second regiment, Massachusetts volunteers, wore a look of utter dejection as he entered headquarters tent, nodded wearily to Capt. Finn Lacey, and slumped onto a stool. The captain stopped writing, leaned back in his chair.

"She wouldn't talk, eh?" "No, she wouldn't talk," Boynton answered. He stretched his long legs out in front of him and studied the worn toe of his boot.

"Maybe she's not a spy after all," Lacey hazarded.

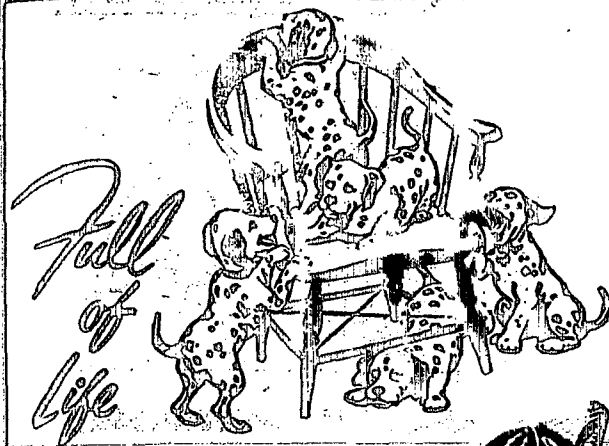

Boynton's blue eyes flashed as he jerked up his head. "Yes, she is! I'm sure of it."

Lacey shrugged and gestured with his cigar. "If you're so sure, we'll hold a court-martial and—"

"No!" Boynton was on his feet. "Don't do that, sir. We haven't enough evidence to convict. It will mean she'll go free and we'll lose our one chance of stopping the leak. Information is getting through somehow. Alice Struthers is responsible. We must learn her methods."

Do You Want To Cut Your Federal Taxes?

Road To The Poorhouse

America's most popular toy this year is called the "crasher truck." It is a mechanical gadget which falls apart when it hits anything. Faced with expenses that may hit $52 billion dollars during 1950, our government could fall apart like the crasher truck unless you, as a citizen, apply the brake.

Three years ago, Congress created a bi-partisan, twelve-man Commission to study the waste and duplication of effort in the agencies and bureaus in the Executive Branch of the Federal Government. This Commission, approved by President Truman and headed by former President Hoover, has turned in a report which would cut our tax bill three to four billion dollars annually—if the recommendations are enacted into law. This means that it would save you one dollar out of every ten you pay in taxes. Whether you realize it or not, every family in the United States pays yearly, on the average, in direct and hidden taxes, more than $1,000.00 each to support the Federal Government alone.

Congress has already authorized $15,000,000,000 for construction of major projects, and another $30,000,000,000 authorization is planned.

The Commission has recommended:

- (1) Creation of an impartial Board of Analysis for engineering and architectural projects,
- (2) Long-range planning of projects to meet the ebb and flow of economic cycles, and
- (3) Coordination of all public works. Such prudence might well save the nation from collapse.

If you think this march down the road to the poorhouse should be halted, wire your Congressman. Write to the Citizens Committee for Reorganization of the Executive Branch of the Government, 1421 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia 2, Pennsylvania, for further information. Tell your friends and neighbors! You must act before it is too late!

ALL TIMBER ALES
BY PETE

"Well," the old timber-looker said, "we set there an' watched the looks on the faces of Big Zeke Thorne an' Little George Jenks when the hunchback boy was brought in to accuse Johnny an' me of killin' Bonnie Parker, an' burnin' the logs. It ain't always a man can tell when it pays to just set an' listen, but it's the man who talks most that makes the most slips, an' Johnny an' me done all right just hangin' onto that idea. The plot was so far pretty deep for us. We could place the burnin' of the logways as part of the fight to keep 'em away from Lenn Breen so he couldn't refinance his mortgage, but killin' Bonnie Parker didn't fit in, and neither did the hunchback boy actin' as an eye witness to something he couldn't see. Funny thing was, he was a new one on Zeke an' George too, judgin' from the looks on their faces.

"What is this?" Zeke Thorne roared, when he'd got over his first shock, "we know these men—er guilty, they made threats agin' Bonnie, an' we've got other evidence too. We can send these fellers up for life without any help from a snivilin' hunchback kid!" Zeke was wrathy, an' George Jenks looked scared. The lumberjacks crowded round lookin' mighty interested, but back on backin' up the little fellow with the lazy mustache an' bright blue eyes that was sharp as the business-end of a baldpate hornet.

"Your time'll come," the little deputy said briskly, "right now you set down and listen. This boy saw the fight on the wangan, saw Bonnie killed and says he knows who did it. The idea is, to give these men a chance to hear him and tell their own story. Nothing else'd be fairplay." Well, that done it for Zeke, last thing he wanted was fairplay, but he could see a chance to better his hand as quick as anybody, and didn't care a whoop how he done it, long's it helped him win. If the boy was agin' us too, that made all the difference in the world.

"They was on the wangan," the boy said, pointin' at me an' Johnny, "they was gonna burn that too, an' all the buildings. But Bonnie jumped 'em an' they had a fight. Bonnie had 'em both down an' was poundin' 'em good. Then the injun got away an' run an' the timber-looker he stabbed Bonnie with a knife. I stood right there an' seen 'em do it.

The crippled kid was screamin' at us, the tears runnin' down his twisted up face like they had the night before when he was playin' his guitar an' the men were singin' their sad songs. It sort of tied a feller's innards up in knots. It was hard to believe he was lyin' out of hullo, an' right then I could think of a lot of places I'd rather be. Zeke Thorne he was jubilant. "I guess that settles our case," he said, his swarthy, fat jowls all wrinkled in smiles.

But agin' the little pint-size deputy showed his stuff. He held up a hand, an' bored me with his gimlet-eyes, then turned 'em on Johnny. "Don't hold water," he said, "don't see no marks." Boys, we all know when Bonnie got in a fight he didn't fool. Anybody here think they could-a been in a fight with Bonnie, an' not show no marks? No sir, these ain't the men the kid seen on the raft."

"Today 21 other Michigan companies are known to be considering locations in other states," pointed out Mr. Weeks. "In each known case the state Department is making every possible effort to hold the company in Michigan."

In reviewing the situation of attracting industries to Michigan, it appears that little attention has been given to the problem of keeping industry in Michigan as illustrated by the above examples of industries which have migrated to other states.

Why have these industries left Michigan?
What were the reasons which prompted manufacturers to close up their Michigan plants and seek employment conditions elsewhere?

In view of the state corporation profits tax now pending before the state legislature, it would seem that answers to these questions are pertinent to 1950 political issues.

Industries mean payrolls; pay-rolls means purchasing power in the community. It is obvious that the industrial prosperity of Michigan must depend to a large degree upon making Michigan an attractive place to work and to live.
